TRANSMITTING RESEARCH KNOWLEDGE ABOUT TEENS TO TEENS PHASE II

This Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) Phase II project was a follow-on to Project No. 17. The project:

- produced three printed and three microcomputer-based products aimed at transmitting research knowledge about teens to teens (see Project 17 summary for a description of the six products); and
- tested the usability, acceptability, and appeal of the products with a variety of parents and teens.

Sponsor: Dept. of Health and Human Services
Office of Policy, Planning, and Legislation
200 Independence Avenue, S.W.
Room 728F, HHH Building
Washington, D.C. 20201
(202) 472-3026

Contract No: 105-89-1022 Project Officer: Dolores Lancaster

Duration: 05/30/89—05/29/90 Budget: $140,255

Staff: J.J. Card, J.L. Peterson, M. Nelson-Kilger, S. Nelson-Kilger, M. Eisen, S. Mizuno, E.C. Peterson