

CHARLES KLEIN, J.D., PH.D.

Senior Research Associate

EDUCATION:

Ph.D., University of Michigan, Anthropology, 1996

J.D., Stanford University, 1986

B.A., University of California, Berkeley, 1983

FIELDS OF SPECIALIZATION:

HIV/AIDS prevention and sexual health promotion; gender and sexuality; ethnography and qualitative methodologies; program development and evaluation; global and Brazilian health policy

PROFESSIONAL HISTORY:

Dr. Klein joined Sociometrics in November 2008 as a Senior Research Associate. He currently focuses on designing text and multimedia content for the Abstinence and Contraception Education Storehouse (ACES), a library of interactive tools to support skill-building activities in teen sexual risk reduction interventions.

Dr. Klein specializes in public health program planning, capacity building, and evaluation. Prior to coming to Sociometrics, he worked for the San Francisco Department of Public Health and the National Sexuality Resource Center at San Francisco State University. In addition to his Ph.D. in Anthropology from the University of Michigan (1996), Dr. Klein has a J.D. (Stanford University, 1986) and worked on HIV and education policy development in the California State Legislature.