JULIA WU, M.P.H., C.P.H.

Research Associate

EDUCATION:

M.P.H., Columbia University Mailman School of Public Health, Sociomedical Sciences - Health Promotion, 2008

B.A., University of California, Berkeley, Molecular and Cell Biology, 2000

FIELDS OF SPECIALIZATION:

Health promotion; behavior change; chronic disease prevention; child health

PROFESSIONAL HISTORY:

Ms. Wu joined Sociometrics Corporation in 2009. She is currently involved in the Early Intervention Program Archive to Reduce Developmental Disability (EIPARDD) project, the archive of public use data on aging, and with the development of a toolkit to reduce oral health disparities among Latino youth.

Prior to joining Sociometrics, Ms. Wu interned at the New York City Department of Health and Mental Hygiene where she supported a research project to characterize the health status of mothers and infants enrolled in a jail-based nursery program. She has also worked as a health educator for the Healthy Aging Studies at the Stanford Prevention Research Center and was involved with implementing a sexual health awareness campaign for the Alice! Health Promotion Program at Columbia University.