SECONDARY ANALYSIS OF PROJECT TALENT VIETNAM VETERAN DATABASE

This project analyzed existing data from a nationwide grade cohort of Project TALENT Vietnam Veterans in order to replicate (on a national sample) work (on clinical samples) by Veteran Administration staff members on the antecedents of posttraumatic stress disorder. The replication was successful, and the analyses showed that it was combat, more than pre-military predispositions, in-military experiences, or post-military adjustment that brought about posttraumatic stress disorder.
