

SOCIOMETRICS PROJECT No. 9

CREATION OF THE MICROCOMPUTER VERSION OF THE 1985 HEALTH PROMOTION AND DISEASE PREVENTION SURVEY

This project produced: (1) a machine-readable microcomputer extract of the National Center for Health Statistics' 1985 Health Promotion and Disease Prevention Survey; (2) machine-readable SPSS/PC statements to read the raw data and create an SPSS/PC analysis file; and (3) a printed user's guide and training manual to accompany the machine-readable files. The National Center for Health Statistics (NCHS) tested the usability of these products at various universities and professional conferences across the country.
