

SOCIOMETRICS PROJECT No. 200

CONSULTANT FOR COMMUNITY BASED RESEARCH AS A TOOL TO ADDRESS ORAL HEALTH DISPARITIES

This project will develop an English- and a Spanish-language version of a practitioner-focused toolkit to reduce oral health disparities among Latino youth. This toolkit will include a User's Guide containing a detailed description of the oral health promotion curriculum and all of the materials needed to implement the program. The goals of this project will be: 1) to develop the content for the User's Guide and program materials; 2) to professionally format the toolkit contents to maximize their visual appeal and usability; 3) to ensure that the program materials are culturally appropriate for use by community health educators working with Latino families; and 4) to produce downloadable PDF versions of the toolkit contents to facilitate wider dissemination of program materials.
